We had some "real dope" this week on grapes, and a movement by Frisco officials and our business men, looking toward vine yards in and around Mansfield, but it is crowded out by political advertisements. This week puts us by the campaign, and we hope to see everybody, after this, get down to business, and put some real business enthusiasm into the country. Politicians and candidates labor on the theory that "he who toots it not not his own horn in a political campaign, the same shall not be tooted," and this week is their last toot before the election, and we have given over to their toot log.

C. H. Hilsabeck has bought the old Bank of Mansfield building, now occupied by H. M. Norcross' store, and will put in a complete and up to date bake oven and outfit. Mr. Norcross will move his stock of goods into the next door east, in the building formerly occupied by the O. T. Cafe. Mr. Hilsabeck is a high class baker, and his goods go on the market anywhere. He is taking these steps, and putting in this new machinery to accommodate the large volume of business he has in this part of the state. With the completing of this bakery and oven, which will be in a short time, will give Mansfield the best bakery between Springfield and Memphis, and believe me, Mr. Hilsabeck is a real baker and puts out the goods—now, don't forget that.

Notice to tax payers.

Thos. L. Rubey Should Be Returned to Congress.

We know that he is qualified because of his efficient service while there, especially his work in behalf of the farmers. Below are only a few of the measures in which he ably assisted:

Mr. Rubey was a leader in the Committee on Agriculture and largely assisted in framing every Agriculture Appropriation Bill passed by Congress during his service.

Was Author of the provision establishing the Bureau of Markets in the Department of Agriculture.

Secured first Appropriations for fighting Hog Cholera and Tuberculosis in Cattle.

Helped frame the bill, and urged its passage upon the floor of the house, (May 31, 1920,) giving farmers the right to organize without danger of being prosecuted under the Sherman Anti-trust law.

Was Chairman of the Subcommittee which framed the first Good Roads Bill, and reported it in the house.

Presided over the House when the Federal Aid Bill was under consideration.

Gave personal assistance to more than one thousand soldiers of the World War in getting Insurance, Compensation, Uniforms, travel pay, educational training, etc. In speaking of the Soldier Bonus Bill he says: "I sincerely trust you may yet receive compensation from our Government, and I assure you that if elected to Congress I can in your behalf."

Lets send him back to Congress by a good majority. He ably represents ALL the people.

Hartville, Mo. Oct. 31, '22.

Mr. Oliver B. Davis, Editor Mansfield Mirror, Mansfield, Mo.

My dear Mr. Davis: In your issue of October 26, you say "Rubey is rich, is childless." This is not a correct statement. I am not rich and an investigation of my financial affairs will convince you of that fact, while their dear little graves in the Lebanon cemetery will bear testimony to the incorrectness of the latter part of your statement. I know you want to be fair, please correct in this weeks issue. Respectfully yours, Thos. L. Rubey.

S. A. Cunningham for State Senator

Copy of a letter from the Executive Committee of the Missouri State Organization for Progressive Political Action, composed of R. T. Wood, President, Missouri State Federation of Labor; R. E. Moon, Chairman, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen; S. H. Williams, Legislative Representative, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; C. G. Brittingham, Chairman, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and H. S. Kratzinger, Chairman, Order of Railroad Conductors. Jefferson City, Mo. October 18, 1922.

Dear Mr. Cunningham:

We note with pleasure that you are a candidate for State Senator from the 22nd District.

In our investigation we find that you have been uniformly fair to the farmer, to labor and the common people in general, and that you stand for equal rights to all the special privileges to none. Therefore, we heartily endorse and commend your candidacy to the favorable consideration of organized farm and labor groups and other progressive voters of this state, and pledge to you every measure of cooperation for your election, knowing as we do that your election to represent the people of the 22nd District in the 52nd session of the General Assembly of Missouri, the interest of the common people in general will be honestly and fearlessly represented by you. Wishing you every measure of success, we remain,

Sincerely yours, R. T. Wood, Chas. E. Lindquist, H. S. Kratzinger, R. E. Moon, S. H. Williams.

In view of those very strong endorsements, and the excellent record he has made as a state senator, in behalf of the masses of the common people; for good roads, school, and for the various measures he has championed for the farmer, and the fight he has made on their behalf, makes it right, proper and just that he be retained as Senator from this 22nd senatorial district. Also his energetic work in behalf of the Soldiers Bonus bill, which gave the World War Veterans a small compensation for the sacrifices they made, and the heroic services they rendered their country in this grave crisis, entitled him to the support, admiration and esteem of all the boys. Don't forget Mr. Cunningham. He is fair and square for the people, the farmer, the laborer and the business man.
